

Consumer Credit Counseling Services

<http://www.apprisen.com/>

For more than a half-century, Consumer Credit Counseling Service (CCCS) has been considered the "gold standard" in the field of credit counseling and personal money management. Certified Credit Counselors work with the individual to set and meet financial goals - whether that means saving for a home, planning for retirement, or paying off debt. Services are confidential, and counselors are available in person, over the telephone, or via the internet.
